October Meeting

The October meeting was quite a challenge. First, we did not give Kay definite information that we were meeting at the Extension Office. (Since the September meeting was moved to the library, she was not sure about our plans.) Secondly, fewer than usual members came, and then Michael Kaybay's software and the Extension Office hardware chose not to communicate with each other. We apologize to Michael for the glitch, and we thank him for agreeing to present his planned program for the November meeting. It's a technology thing.

As you can clearly see, the pictures submitted for the October meeting were superb again. With the dual themes of autumn and The Pumpkin Festival, we got a good look at the season in Greene County. Third and second places were garnered by Denise Chadwick while first place went to Janice Morris. The entries for November will again include autumn photos as well as pictures with Halloween themes.

It was also decided at the October meeting that we would expand our meeting activities to include a member portfolio presentation at each meeting. With that in mind, Ken Miller has agreed to bring and discuss his portfolio at the Nov. 20 meeting.

Bowlby Display Review

Here are a couple of notes relative to the Bowlby display. First and most importantly, those of you who participated are to be highly commended. The folks who visited the library really appreciated our display. Secondly, we have been invited back to do a display next fall. Remember to keep track of your best prints for September and October of 2008. Thirdly, if you did not pick up your prints at the end of the month, either Jerry will bring them to the November meeting or Pam has them at The GreeneSaver office.

Note from Jerry: I apologize that you did not receive a newsletter in a timely fashion this month. After a short vacation, I began the newsletter, and my old computer died (not crashed, DIED!) After a lot of help from Joe Sadlek, I now have a new one and most files have risen from the dead. Sorry for the delay!

Next Meeting:

Greene County Photography Club will hold its next meeting in Room 110 of Stewart Hall at Waynesburg University (Still sounds strange to me too!) As told on the front of this newsletter, Michael Kabay will give his presentation on sports photography. Directions for Stewart Hall: From downtown Waynesburg, make a right at Mickey's Mens Store onto Washington Street. Stewart Hall one block ahead and right across from First National Bank's Drive Thru. Enter Stewart Hall on the bottom level.

Just another reminder: the topics for our November competition are Fall and Halloween. Do not forget, bring your three favorite pictures in 4x6 or less to enter.

We will also plan the Christmas meeting/party at our meeting on the 20th. If you have ideas for that, please help us plan.

As for the rest of the November meeting (like I've not already suggested enough), Ken Miller will discuss his portfolio. Ken has a lot of experience in photography, and we'll steal all the ideas we can from him!

Congratulations

Pam announced at the October meeting that 5 of our members have had their photos chosen for the GreeneSaver Calendar Contest. They are: Debbie Hoy—April, Janice Morris—July, Amy Cree—August, Josh McCord—October, and Denise Chadwick—November. We congratulate all of these folks.

Think About This

The meeting time was discussed at the October meeting. The third Tuesday is difficult for numerous members. Would the 4th Tuesday work for you?
