Carolyn Whitehead Presents "The Wolf Lady"

Those who attended the August meeting were served a real treat when Carolyn Whitehead presented the photo essay she had prepared from her experiences staying with folks in Oregon who raise endangered wolves. Of course, she treated us to touching photos of both adult and pup wolves, but she also treated us to a floral and misty visit to that beautiful coastal region of Oregon. Carolyn's knack for taking great pictures was enhanced by her equally sharp expertise in putting together a multimedia show that educates and entertains the audience. We all thank Carolyn for sharing this program with us.

In addition, we will ask Carolyn to share more of her talents with us. For the rest of our members, their friends, and their acquaintances, we need more programs, so if you can do one or arrange for someone else to do one, please call that to Pam's or Jerry's attention. Our club's success depends upon all of us contributing.

Bowlby Display

By the time this newsletter reaches you, a collection of GCPC photos should be on display at the Bowlby Public Library in Waynesburg. If you did not submit yours, don't despair. The display will last for at least three weeks, and we'll make room for more if you just bring your photos to the GreeneSaver or give Pam a call at 724-827-2040. The library and the public has embraced this display so more photos will be welcomed.

Notes: The Taylor County Club is taking a photo field trip aboard The New Tygart Flyer on Sept. 29. Call Harry White 304-265-5405 for details. You may call Jerry.

Next Meeting:

Greene County Photography Club will hold its next meeting at the Cooperative Extension office at 7 pm on September 18th. The theme for the September GCPC contest is Children so this will be an opportunity to show off your best pictures of your children, your grandchildren, or your neighbors' children. Almost nothing catches a viewer's attention as much as that sweet little kid. Just look on Page 1 at the second place winner this month.

Here's a reminder from elsewhere in the newsletter. We need input for programs for our club meetings. We'll soon be planning for the 2008 year's meetings, but we'll welcome any offers for presentations for the rest of this year too.

August Contest=Great Fair Pix!

As you can clearly see, the efforts for festival and fair photos were outstanding. It never ceases to amaze this editor how good the photos are for our monthly contests. August's theme of Fairs and Festivals fit right in with summer activities like the Jacktown and Greene County Fairs. Among the winners was a brand new member we welcomed to this meeting (and then she promptly won first place)! First place was the Ferris Wheel Riders entered by Suzie Thornberg. Second place was Lemon Shake Beauty and was submitted by Pam Blaker. Third place, Ferris Ride at Twilight was also taken by Pam Blaker. Photo Field Trip

Pam mentioned it at the August meeting, but I have been asked to call attention to the Pumpkin Fest on Oct. 6 and 7th at Pumpkin Run Park in Rices Landing.
