JULY MEETING

The challenge for June was "Word Art" in photography.

"HOME"

By Janice Morris

Mark Brendel will present on PHOTOSHOP at our meeting, July 23. Mark works with Photoshop professionally and is town visiting his brother, Dave. Don't miss this opportunity to see things that are possible with PHOTOSHOP. Even if you don't use it, we are sure you will find this interesting!

June Meeting

Our June program showed how pictures can document the progress of volunteers working together to help others. Rev. David Stains has spent considerable time in Columbia. His photographic presentation and discussion were quite informative.

The June competition of finding letters in the environment and using them to write names or words is a fun way to create a meaningful photograph. You can take a full sized picture of the "letter." Another way is to isolate the letter from an existing photograph as Janice using the "crop" tool or use masks in Photoshop Elements to hide parts of a picture (see the "V") as Cathy did. It's a challenge and it's fun!

“If your photos aren’t good enough, then you’re not close enough.” Robert Capa

In fact, some photographers say to get up close and then take another step closer.

August’s Competition is Water

Many of us spend time at the beach or in pools during the summer month. Others go for walks along trickling creeks or streaming waterfalls. This summer, one only needs to step outside in the morning to see water droplets on flowers and puddles. A spray bottle of water can help you fake those dew drops! (Some people add a drops of glycerin to it.)

Look through your pictures or better yet, go out and take some pictures with water! Bring three 4 x 6 inch water pictures to the August meeting. Also, bring July’s night pictures.

Waterfall Photography

Ken Dadfar of Digital Photography School offers tips for taking pictures of waterfalls:

1. Time it right – after rainfall best
2. Get there early – less people
3. Don’t forget your tripod – consider shutter speed’s effect on picture
4. Look for people – can add context
5. Add foreground points of interest
6. Be careful
